

DOT EXAM PREPARATION CHECKLIST

To avoid delays in receiving your DOT medical certification, bring any of the following items that are applicable to your health history. In addition, bring all medications you are currently taking. If you do not have the required information, you may be required to schedule another appointment at your expense.

For convenience, if you have any questions regarding your medical certification and documentation that may be required, please contact our office to speak with one of our NRCME providers.

Bring the following information to your appointment:

- Valid driver's license
- Medications you are currently taking, and the name and contact information for the prescribing doctor
- Eye glasses or contacts, if applicable
- A working hearing aid, if applicable
- Be prepared to provide a urine sample: This is a screening urinalysis (not a Drug screen)

The following health history categories may require you to obtain information BEFORE your DOT exam. Please review carefully, and complete any necessary consultations or tests prior to scheduling your DOT exam with us. In many cases, clearance to operate a Commercial Motor Vehicle (CMV) is required from your treating provider to complete the certification process.
